The nominal return of a pension fund in a month is understood as the percentage variation of the quota value on the last day of that month, with respect to the quota value on the last day of the previous month. The nominal return for periods longer than one year is presented annualized, considering the number of days in the calculation period.

ECONOMIC OVERVIEW

- The third quarter of 2025 was marked by a return to optimism in international financial markets, driven by economic resilience, strong progress in artificial intelligence (AI) technology, and a more expansionary monetary policy from the US Federal Reserve. This was further bolstered by a rebound in emerging markets, supported by the depreciation of the dollar and a recovery in global risk appetite, despite persistent political and trade uncertainty.
- Global equities extended their gains. In the US, the S&P 500 rose nearly 8% and the Nasdaq reached new all-time highs, boosted by the Fed's September interest rate cuts, strong corporate earnings, and renewed enthusiasm for AI. The Russell 2000 index, which tracks smaller companies, led the way with a 12.4% gain, supported by a weaker dollar and lower interest rates. In emerging markets, the MSCI EM index advanced 10.6% during the quarter, with China and Taiwan leading the way thanks to strong performance in semiconductors and flows into technology stocks. Europe and Japan also posted positive, albeit more modest, returns amid progress on US trade deals and a stable interest rate environment.
- In fixed-income markets, assets showed positive returns following the Fed's decision to cut its benchmark interest rate by 25 basis points, bringing it to a range of 4.00%-4.25%. The yield curve steepened, with shorter maturities declining and longer maturities remaining stable. The yield on the 10-year Treasury note fell to 4.15%, and credit spreads continued to narrow. The Bloomberg Aggregate Bond Index rose 2.0% in the quarter, while high-yield bonds advanced 2.5%, supported by the perception that the economic cycle remains robust.
- In commodities, the price of gold surged 16.8%, reaching record highs above $3,800 per ounce, amid rising demand for safe-haven assets and geopolitical tensions. The Bloomberg Commodity Index rose 3.6% in the quarter, driven by precious and industrial metals. In contrast, oil prices fell 5.9% due to increased production by OPEC+, which exceeded global demand.

ECONOMIC OVERVIEW

- At the local level, the Central Bank of Chile cut the Monetary Policy Rate by 25 basis points in the quarter, beginning a new cycle of rate cuts, bringing it to 4.75%, in a context of continuing to moderate inflation. The annual variation of the CPI stood at 4.4% in September, with a monthly change of 0.4%. The exchange rate tended to depreciate slightly, closing the quarter at around CLP 961 per dollar, favored by a strengthening dollar and a significant drop in the price of copper after the announcement that the imposed tariffs would not be implemented. Unemployment rose to 8.5% in the July-September moving quarter, a decrease of 0.2 percentage points compared to the same period of the previous year. This decrease is due to an increase in the labor force that was less than the increase in the number of employed people, resulting in a 1.3% drop in the total number of unemployed.
- In this context, pension funds registered positive returns across all multi-funds. The riskier funds (A and B) benefited from the rebound in international stock markets and the appreciation of the dollar, with returns of 10.1% and 8.5%, respectively. The more conservative funds (C, D, and E) also achieved positive returns, supported by international and local fixed income, with returns of 6.3%, 4.3%, and 3.6%, respectively.

KEY INDICATORS

Voluntary Retirement Savings (APV)

The APV consists of voluntary contributions, agreed deposits and collective voluntary pension savings (APVC). These savings are made on a voluntary basis with the purpose of increasing future pension over mandatory contributions, also benefitting from tax incentives.

Voluntary retirement savings have increased significantly since 2002, the year in which a regulatory change enabled industries other than the AFPs to manage this type of savings while introducing additional tax incentives. This reform resulted in the entry into the market of other entities including banks, insurance companies, mutual funds and stock brokerage firms, in addition to the existing 7 AFPs.

From January 2011, a limit of UF 900 per year was placed on the agreed deposits tax-free, as no limit had existed prior to December 2010.

The AFPs are authorized to collect an annual fee on APVs' managed balances, which currently range between 0,16% and 0,60% for affiliates and 0,50% up to 0,70% for not affiliates. In AFP Habitat this fee is equivalent to 0,55% for both.

Respect to APV accounts managed by the 7 AFPs, as of September 2025 Habitat has the 20,8% of the managed accounts and a 37,5% of the balance managed (MM CLP$ 2.175.583). This places us, as the AFP that manages the largest APV balances in the industry.

KEY INDICATORS

Voluntary Savings Accounts (CAV)

While CAV can increase future pensions, this product provides a short and medium-term savings vehicle, which is also freely available, and is not considered a retirement fund contribution. This product is exclusively offered by AFPs, however, it does compete with other savings products such as bank savings accounts and mutual funds.

As of September 2025, Habitat managed a total of 700.044 accounts, corresponding to CLP$MM 900.837 on assets under management, which represents a market share of 34,6%.

As of September 2025, the total CAV accounts managed increased by 1,2% at AFP Habitat and 0,2% at the industry level. Regarding the managed balances at AFP Habitat, as of September 2025 they rose compared to the same period last year by 7,6% reaching CLP $MM 900.837, and at the industry level, managed balances reached CLP$MM 2.600.318 equivalent to a variation of 6,9% compared to September 2024.

The Chilean Pension Reform in effect as from 2008, allows AFPs to charge a fee on CAV balances under management, which currently ranges between 0,16% and 0,95% per annum, AFP Habitat charges 0,95% per annum.

Gains/Losses on the Obligatory Reserve

In order to guarantee the minimum profitability of the pension funds, referred to in article 37 of DL 3.500, the AFPs must maintain an asset called Cash equivalent to one percent (1%) of each type of pension fund that manage.

The profitability of the Reserve in the current period showed an overall higher profit of MM$ 20.990 compared to the profitability obtained in the same period of the previous year, due to a better return on investments of Pension Funds Types A, B, C and D which obtained a higher profitability of MM$ 22.337, while Fund Type E although it generated a positive return, this was lower by MM$ 1.346 and together they meant a profit from the profitability of the reserve of MM$ 69.706 (profit of MM$ 48.716 as of September 2024).
